These must be paid for in advance to the printer. Some parties ordering the same.

FRIDAY, MARCH 26, 1915.

How to pronounce Przemysl: Jaz-meelze, with the accent on the meez and giving the J the soft sound as in French. Or, as though it were spelled Jaz-meelze.

President Wilson has announced that he has no intention of calling an extra session of the senate or house before the beginning of the regular session next December.

Senator Atlee Pomerene will soon start on a tour of the state with a view to ascertaining the sentiment toward his candidacy to succeed himself in 1916. It looks now as though there would be no opposition to him for the democratic nomination for the office.

This sensible paragraph from the rock-ribbed republican Warren Chronicle is good for the soul. The job of President Wilson is not one just now to covet, weighed as it is with responsibilities and the serious business of maintaining neutrality with the rest of the world. Support as much as possible and criticism as little as possible, would be the right attitude.

One night recently more than one hundred democratic friends of ex-congressman E. R. Bathrick gave a banquet at Akron in his honor and started a boom for his nomination for governor in 1916. Mr. Bathrick gave proof of his ability in congress and should be decided to be a candidate for the governor nomination admiring in all parts of the state would rally to his support.

Ex-Senator Burton was given a send-off dinner before leaving New York for his South American trip. In his speech on that occasion he said: "We are at peace and intend to be. That is the kind of talk we intend to be. This country is not going to knuckle down to the jingoism, the armor-plated men or the war experts. It is going to stand for peace, peace, peace, peace, and thin, and any old, stuck-up diplomacy that interferes will be brushed aside. We don't want any more diplomacy of vanity or of carrying chips on the shoulders. We want the diplomacy of humanity, of conscience, and the golden rule. That will bring peace. No other course will. Showing fight is the next thing to fighting. What this nation wants to do is to show friendship and there is no nation more able to do so.—Columbus Journal. That is the right kind of talk. Let there be more of it."

SALEM

Mrs. Laura Gray has been granted a divorce from Theodore Gray on the grounds of cruelty and she was awarded $500 alimony and the custody of their children.

Members of the Knights of Columbus went to Leetonia Wednesday night in company with Rev. Hanrahan who spoke, to attend the opening of the retreat for men.

Dry forces of the county will hold a meeting in Lisbon Sunday, April 4, to outline the campaign to vote the county dry under the Beal law.

The K. of P. lodge will attend the Methodist church next Sunday afternoon when special services will be held.

Mrs. Edith Wilcox, aged 72, died last Friday after an illness of three weeks. Mrs. Lenora Coy has dismissed her divorce suit against her husband, Lewis Coy.

Judge Moore last week allowed Ray Kaylor $465.00 for his services to that time as receiver of the American Case & Register Co.

About 40 teachers from this city and neighborhood attended the 4-county teachers' meeting in Niles the latter part of last week.

Albert Canaan, a well-known architect of this city, died last Thursday at his home on Ellsworth avenue. He had been one of the best buildings in this and neighboring cities. His age was 74.

The automobile show Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the Globe auditorium promises to be fine.

The Lincoln Chautauque entertainment dates are August 8 to 13.

Mrs. Milton Meyer, 52 years old, died Sunday from cancer which caused her great suffering for two years.

An Unappreciated Blessing.

The Wilson administration has conferred on the United States a boon so very great that it is unappreciated—the federal reserve act, with its new banking and currency systems. Under the old regime, panic waited around the corner with a spiked club, even in the best of times. It came almost without warning in 1907, confounding so to speak, by the maledictions of Theodore Roosevelt, and forced every bank in the country to suspend specie payment.

That was in a time of profound peace. Today, after more than seven months of the greatest war the world has ever seen, the banks of the United States are doing business without trouble; there is no sign of panic, there are no cashiers' checks, and in spite of the destruction of capital on a hundred battlefields times in this country are growing better instead of worse.

Every workman who draws his pay in real money does so because the Wilson administration reformed the banking and currency laws.

For the Stomach and Liver.

I. N. Stuart, West Webster, N. Y., writes: "I have used Chamberlain's Tablets for disorders of the stomach and liver off and on for the past five years, and it affords me pleasure to state that I have found them to be just as represented. They are mild in their action and the results have been satisfactory. I value them highly."—Sole sale by all dealers.—Adv.

YOUNGSTOWN

Frank Hall, one of the leaders in the gang that held up and robbed the New York Central fast freight at Hartford, Trumbull county, last week, was fined $25 and costs when he pleaded guilty to train riding when arraigned before Judge M. B. Welsh Friday. Lawlor and Roberts who with Hall are said to have led the gang, also the other suspects arrested at the time, a total of 39 to be exact, were released.

Miss Florence Tuckerman of the Rayen high school faculty who will leave that institution at the close of the present school year after 25 years of continuous service, will be tendered a farewell banquet at the Roland Country Club Friday evening. Prof. E. F. Miller, principal of Rayen school, will be toastmaster.

County Auditor I. M. Hogg estimates that the new method of taxation that will go into effect as soon as the governor signs the act repealing the Warnes law will save the county about $900 a month over the present system.

Albert I. Aber, a husband for 30 years and the father of seven children has filed suit for divorce from Mary E. Aber. He alleges extreme cruelty and gross neglect of duty. Couple was married at Homestead, Pa., June 11, 1885.

In all probability the payment of state bounty under the mother's pension law will be made in probate court about the first of next month. The county commissioners have set aside a fund of $10,000 for pensions. Under the law the most needy cases are to be given first consideration. Probation officers attached to the probate court have been busy for several weeks past investigating the condition of the various applicants. In the neighborhood of 200 mothers have made application.

Mahoning county dry forces, numbering 1,000, in mass meeting here Sunday afternoon organized for the coming state prohibition fight and pledged themselves to return a larger dry majority than at the recent state vote on the issue. Mahoning was dry by a narrow margin. Representative O. A. Fleming addressed the meeting and prophesied early destruction of the liquor business. "Seldom, if ever, have men seen the downfall of two great evils within the span of a life time, but many men living who saw slavery and live to see the last traffic driven from the nation," he said. Chairman W. F. Perry stated Mahoning is represented in congress and in both branches of the state legislature by dry men. "Future United States senators from Ohio must be dry, or, we'll meet them at the ballot box," he promised. Petitions for initiation of the prohibition constitutional proposal were distributed among the workers to obtain signatures.

No greater event in the mercantile line has been noted here than the celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the organization of the popular and progressive Strouss-Hirschberg Co., the firm beginning in a modest way away back in 1875 and growing greater and greater until now its stores here are mammoth in their proportions, vast in their business transactions, solid in the confidence of the public and firmly founded in the strictest integrity and square dealing. Last Saturday night the event was given splendid recognition and just eulogy at a banquet in the Hotel Ohio. All this week there is an anniversary sale, where there is bargains galore and attractive, beautiful displays well worth the occasion. Isaac Strouss and Bernard Hirschberg, the enterprising and wonderfully successful proprietors, have been and are being showered with congratulations not only from local friends, buyers and waiters, but from friends and admirers in many cities in the union. Among the able aides who have done much to make this immense establishment so widely-known and so largely patronized are Clarence J. Strouss, secretary-treasurer of the company; I. G. Goldsmith, general manager; G. V. Thompson, superintendent; Henry Goldstein, advertising manager.

A copy of Horn's Pittsburgh Directory for 1887, found in a barn near Vienna, gives interesting matter relative to the village of Youngstown at that time. Extracts from an article in the old directory follow: "Youngstown is situated in Trumbull county in the center of the township in a rich and fertile county and probably no other town on the Western Reserve sells as much grain, wool, horses and cattle as Youngstown. The farmers are wealthy and among them some of the wealthiest capitalists of the western country. It has a population of about 700 and is the most populous township of the county. The place has one daily mail, one three times a week, and two routes that come in once a week. The principal canal office, for the eastern division of the Ohio and Pennsylvania canal is in this place. Col. Dodge principal engineer. Many here are commencing silk growing, and it is very profitable. It will soon be noted for its manufacturing. The religious society is as good as in any other place. The Presbyterians have a splendid church; Episcopalians a large brick meeting house. Besides the above denominations there are some Episcopalians, Baptists, Universalists and a few Catholics. A Sabbath school under good regulations and nearly 100 scholars, supported by all denominations. This place contains 13 stores; one auction and commission store, by Loring Hodge; four taverns; one strictly temperance, by J. Davis, and a variety of all kinds of mechanic shops, usually to be found in most places, besides one deer-skin dressing and glove manufacturer, one chair factory and a tool factory, doing an extensive business. The Hon. William Rayen, an old inhabitant, and many years judge of the court, member of the legislature, etc., is postmaster. Mechanics—John Kirk, T. L. Wick & Co., R. Green, D. Brislin, J. F. Hollingsworth, Smith & McComb, J. D. Wick, Thomas Wane, Frank Barclay, Henry Wick, Jr., Philip Jacobs, Ross & Griffith, James Haslip, H. & W. Woodbridge. Glove Manufacturers—J. W. Orr, J. Edwards, Tanner—John Van Fleet, Fanning Mill Shop—William O. Rice, Inner and Sheet Iron Manufacturers—J. L. Holcomb, A. Brown, Flouring Mill, Carding Machine, Sattinet Factory, etc.—L. M. Curry. Chair Factory—J. Laughridge. Wagon and Coach Factory—Charles Barr, J. Davis, N. Upshaw. Builder and Canal Contractor—D. S. Moreley. Cabinet Makers—Henry Hensley, Peter Raphael Blacksmith—N. Holland, J. Johnson, H. McKinnell, Pierce. Shoemakers—J. Squire, J. C. Harvey, E. King, Tallor—W. F. Lorenz, Abraham Lackey, H. Lackey, J. King. Saddler—D. E. Brislin. Carpenters—William Murry.

William Day, A. White, Robert Barclay, Innkeepers—J. Davis, James McClay, Alexander McKinney, Jasper Griths, Moses Squire, boarding house. Justice of the Peace—A. Medbury. Judge of the Court of Common Pleas—Henry Manning. Physicians—Henry Manning, C. Crook, J. Garlick, Charles Dutton, retired. Attorney-at-Law—Robert W. Taylor, Clergymen—Joseph Stubbs, John Robinson, Methodist Episcopal; Mr. Miller, Protestant Methodist.

Much interest is being taken here in the proposed garden contest, the project being mainly pushed by J. N. Higley, A. E. Adams and Park Supt. Lionel Evans. The plan is to induce men—men mostly out of work—to cultivate vacant lots that may be given The dollar bank of which Mr. Adams is president, is willing to furnish prizes, which, it is likely, would be awarded to various concerns and citizens. The authorities ask for the names of those with gardens to offer and the names of those who take special care of their lawns. The prize-garden contest was tried last year. Quite a number entered but far fewer than expected. Many men out of work have little inclination to garden so long as they may get a chance to drag along on charity or the support of their wives and children.

Bob McClain, city agent for the Pennsylvania railroad, is likely to be a candidate for the republican nomination for mayor. But Robert will have a world of company in his fight for the place.

COUNTY SCHOOL COLUMN

The Four-County Teachers' meeting held at Niles last Friday evening and Saturday was one of the best in the history of the association. Dr. Sussalo of Columbia University gave three strong addresses emphasizing tendencies in our modern educational system as well as pointing out the need of more re-organization in our school curricula. Dr. Henry C. Williams was present but not able to speak on account of laryngitis. The music and all the other addresses were well given and thoroughly enjoyed and everything moved off like clock work. The association went on record for no changes in the present school code and voted to hold the next meeting in Niles in a year hence. The number of teachers present was estimated at 800.

The spring session of the North-Eastern comes to Youngstown. It will meet April 9 and 10. Owing to the fact that the Schoolmasters' Club should amount on the 10th of the same month. The program committee have decided to blend the two meetings and have the Schoolmasters' Club meet on Friday evening for its usual dinner and entertainment and instead of providing for an address adjourn to the address and feature of Friday evening's program.

The Extension Class in Agriculture is still growing. The interest in the work is growing and Prof. Johnson of Kent is beginning to believe that most of the teachers of this county never knew that there is such a subject as Agriculture. The class now numbers more than 50.

The Commercial National bank of Youngstown has announced that it will provide two trips for Junior Contestants, one for corn growing and one for potato growing. We are glad to make this announcement to the boys and girls and growing that others will follow, urge the corn and potato growers to begin at once for one of the live contests that the county has ever known.

The county board of education met Saturday, March 20, and opened by electing John Yoder president, J. G. Pim, vice-president, and Wm. Chambers, secretary. The board ordered a six weeks course in the county normal school granted at Canfield, the same to begin May 10th. The county and district superintendents will be the instructors together with some of the primary instruction. This course of six weeks is open only to teachers and will give the same credit as six weeks in similar work at Kent or any other summer school.

Miss Perl Becker of the Tiger school, Milton township, is one of the one-room teachers who knows the county best. Her school and her community. Frequent socials and a Mothers' Day are some of the devices used to attract parents and others to the school-house.

The Austintown board of education opened its bids for the new school-house in the office of the county superintendent on the 18th. In all 35 bids were received. As usual the margin of variation was large. Upon the advice of the architect the board decided not to take the lowest bid and awarded the bulk of the work to the National Construction Company, Niles. The proposal was to build a 100-bidder who were lower and an injunction is threatened. As a result we are not able to say at this time as to what the probable cost of the building will be nor how soon work will be begun.

Berlin township will open the bids for the centralized school April 8.
